The rejections

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 to 3 of U.S. Patent No. 6,187,279. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the sole difference between the instant claims and the prior art is the orientation of both layers. However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to determine the specific orientation in the patent in order to create a uniform layer.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1 to 6, 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tanino et al (6,187,279).

The Tanino et al reference teaches a layered silicon carbide product and a process of creating the layers. On a single crystal alpha SiC substrate a layer of beta polycrystalline layer is placed. The resultant structure is then heat treated in an inert atmosphere at temperatures up to 1900°C. The heat treatment causes the polycrystalline layer to become a single crystal and orientated in the same direction as the substrate, note entire reference. The sole difference between the instant claims and the prior art is the orientation of both layers. However, in the absence of unexpected results, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to determine through routine experimentations the optimum, operable orientations in the Tanino et al reference in order to increase the uniformity of the crystal growth.

Claims 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tanino et al (6,187,279).

The Tanino et al reference is relied on for the same reasons as stated, supra, and differs from the instant claims in the addition of another layer. However, in the absence of unexpected results, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to determine through routine experimentations the optimum, operable interlayer in the Tanino reference in order to aid in the conversion to a single crystal.
